

INDICATIONS POINT TO LARGE ATTENDANCE

Bankers Expected in October From Every Important City in America.

WITNESS WONDERFUL GROWTH

Some of Those Who Were Here Ten Years Ago Have Written of Their Interest in Again Coming to Richmond—Committees Hard at Work.

When Boston played host last year to the convention of the American Bankers' Association there were 1,100 bankers in attendance, and the 1,100 bankers who are expected to come to Richmond in October this year will be as large as it was last year. The fact that it is not known just what amount will be spent by the bankers for entertaining the visitors is a certain sign that the convention will be a success. The administrative committee, representing the Chamber of Commerce, the City Council, is spending much time and going to no small expense in working out and perfecting plans for the convention.

Among the number of financiers who will come to Richmond for the convention this fall will be some of the bankers who attended a convention of bankers held here ten years ago, and for these delegates many surprises are in store.

WONDERFUL PROGRESS

It will probably be difficult for these delegates when they arrive to realize that Richmond is the same city that entertained them at a convention ten years ago, for in that space of time remarkable strides have been made here in the way of development along almost all lines.

Practically every city of the United States and of Canada will be represented when the bankers arrive in Richmond. From the standpoint of advertising to the world the varied commercial and industrial advantages of this city, it is thought that the value of the approaching convention will be incalculable. Attending the convention will be many of the most widely known and influential financiers of the country. Men of prominence in local business affairs regard as extremely fortunate the selection of Richmond business interests for holding the convention.

BETTERS LOOK IN VAIN FOR HOLDER OF STAKES

Fourteen Sports Wager Money on Ball Games—Pool-Room Employee Gone.

Fourteen creditable sports, who had wagered money on the baseball games of yesterday, expected to find the holder of the stakeholder's cash, but they might have been looking for a stakeholder to whom they had entrusted their cash. The stakeholder, a resident of Richmond, was absent from the city for two months. He was known as an authority on sports, and his employment in a local business was regarded as extremely fortunate. The stakeholder's absence was noted by the manager of the establishment in which he was employed. A vain search was made for him. It was learned that he had left his headquarters Monday night and failed to return the following day.

NOTE NOT YET SELECTED FOR STATE LIME PLANT

Commission Hears Report from State Geologist as to Desirability of Various Locations.

After hearing the report of Dr. Thomas L. Watson, State Geologist, in which was discussed the relative desirability of different available sites for the lime-grinding plant to be established by the State, the special commission appointed by the last General Assembly to establish and operate the plant adjourned yesterday afternoon without making any action.

The commission met in the office of the Governor early in the day, took recess at 1 o'clock, reassembled at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, and adjourned after a brief session, subject to the call of the chairman. Governor Stuart is ex-officio chairman of the commission.

It was anticipated yesterday that the board would select the site for the plant at this meeting. When the geologist's report was submitted, however, it showed that desirable land could be secured in several different counties, some richer than others in lime deposits. Members of the commission desired more time to look into the situation, and action was accordingly deferred until the next meeting.

Practically the whole time was given to discussion of the relative desirability of the different sites available. Views were exchanged by the Governor, the Superintendent of the State Penitentiary and the Commissioner of Agriculture. It is expected that at the next meeting the site will be selected, and a plan of operation agreed upon.

Operated Policy Shop.—A negro arrested yesterday by Patrolmen Ryan, charged with operating a policy shop on Seventeenth Street, was yesterday fined $100 and costs and sentenced to fifteen days in the city jail by Justice Crutchfield.

Charged With Striking Infant.—Justice Crutchfield will on Thursday hear the case against Mrs. R. A. Root, a white woman, who is charged with striking Newborn Finch. The infant child of M. S. Finch of the case was continued to that date from the Police Court on yesterday.

Comes for Prisoner.—Detective Lawrence T. Doran, of the prosecutors' office, Camden, N. J., arrived in Richmond yesterday afternoon to take Samuel Holt back to New Jersey to stand trial for wife desertion. Detective Doran will leave with his prisoner at noon today.

BALTIMORE PLANNING TO WELCOME CROWDS

"Star Spangled Banner" Centennial Will Be Made Great Event.

AUTOMOBILE TOURS POPULAR

Two Parties of Travelers Stop Over at Murphy's—South Boston and Raleigh Tourists Visit Points of Interest in Richmond.

The officers in charge of the Star Spangled Banner Centennial in Baltimore are proceeding with preparatory arrangements on the hypothesis that they will have to handle a crowd of visitors that will never be less than 50,000 during the week, with a probable increase on some days. The day is said by J. M. Butler, a Baltimore business man, who was at Murphy's Hotel last night.

Elaborate preparations are going forward for the centennial week. Mr. Butler said the centennial celebration opens September 6, and closes September 13.

"The big day," he pursued, "will be September 12, when the Governor of Virginia will be there with the Governors of probably half a score of other States. It has been designated Star Spangled Banner Day. The celebration on that day commemorates the birth of the famous battle of North Point and the anniversary of the defense of Fort Mifflin. The day is also significant because it marks the anniversary of the historical incident of the killing of General Ross, the British army, during the Revolutionary War. Two boys, about fifteen years old, lay in ambush with their guns at the British command, code by, and shot him from his horse.

A monument to the two intrepid young Americans stands today at Asquith Square, Baltimore, at Asquith and Gay Streets.

Indicative of the growing popularity of automobile tours is a summer vacation party of Americans, who are visiting Richmond from distant points in the last few weeks. Two parties of automobiles, each a vacation tour, arrived here yesterday, and will remain here several days, and are occupying rooms at Murphy's Hotel.

In a party from Raleigh, N. C., the following: J. W. Coppedge, J. P. Copeedge, B. F. Tillery and W. D. Tillery. A large party, traveling in two big high-power cars, consists of five men and four women. They are Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Harris, Miss Eva Lovelace, Miss Florence Tilly, Miss Alice Bleeker, A. R. Lawson, R. B. Lawson, S. H. Glend and R. D. Harris, all of South Boston.

Four Additional Warrants Served.—Police last night served out four additional warrants against Mary Carter, alias Mary St. John, alias Nora Phillips, the negro who was arrested in the attempt to secure a quantity of clothing from Miller & Edwards on an order, to which the name of Mrs. Scott Parrish had been forged. The warrants were served on her in jail.

Charters Amended.—Amendments to two charters were granted by the State Corporation Commission yesterday as follows: Cawley-Campbell, Wells Company, Incorporated; Brockley, Incorporated; name to Cawley-Campbell, Wells Company, Incorporated.

W. H. Whaley & Co., Incorporated, Norfolk, changing preferences as to stock.

HOPES FOR WAR BETWEEN GERMANS AND RUSSIANS

Dr. L. H. Leion Says Hostilities Will Precipitate Revolution in Russia.

ARMY OPPOSED TO EMPIRE

Relates His Own Experience When Spies of Czar Manufactured Evidence to Secure His Conviction, Escaped From Prison.

Ten years ago a commissioned officer in the imperial army of Russia, today an exile from the Czar's dominions with a price on his head to induce crowd of Russians to desert, Dr. L. H. Leion, of Richmond, related yesterday when he read in the news dispatches of the declaration of war between Austria and the attendant possibility of a clash of German and Russian armies.

Dr. Leion hopes for a war between the Germans and the Russians. He believes that such a conflict must inevitably lead to the humiliation of the Russian government. An outbreak of hostilities involving these two formidable nations, he says, will precipitate a revolution in the Russian empire. The Russian army is honeycombed with revolutionists, he declared, who wait for the opportunity to turn their arms against the empire.

His own experience he cites by way of illustration. For several generations his forefathers were officers in the Czar's army. He was born and reared amid military environments and attached to the military service. When he was graduated in medicine from the Royal Medical Academy, St. Petersburg, he was received in the military service.

The oppression and persecution of the Hebrews by the Russian government made of him a revolutionist early in his military career. Eventually he joined the Society of the Revolution. This organization, the doctor says, has today, as it had in his time, among its members some of the highest ranking young men in the army.

In 1904 Dr. Leion fell under suspicion. He was aware for some months that the secret spies of the government were on his trail. Hence he was so guarded in his movements that he and the spies were unable to get a scintilla of evidence against him, although he frequently attended the secret meetings of the society.

But in Russia to be suspected of treason is equivalent to being convicted. The government spies are furnished from time to time with lists of suspects, and it is the policy of these spies to endeavor to get a scintilla of evidence of guilt. Whether they are able to find the evidence or not, once they have marked a man for arrest, that man is as good as convicted of conspiracy.

Early in 1904 Dr. Leion was arrested in the streets of St. Petersburg by a lieutenant of police on the charge of being a member of the Society of the Revolution. He was taken to the police station, and when searched, incriminating papers were found in his pockets. He was held in prison, but learned later that this was not at all a matter to excite surprise. The papers had been slipped into his pockets by the spies who were on his trail or by some criminal employed by them at this critical work.

On this evidence he was ordered to trial. He was sent to the military prison at Vitebsk, where he remained for his trial. The officers of the society learned of his arrest and imprisonment. Early one morning one of the turnkeys slipped softly into his cell and gave him the full uniform of a field surgeon, instructing him to go to it and leave the prison. This he did with alacrity. A carriage was awaiting him outside, and he was on his way to the city of St. Petersburg, where he was to be a member of the society, who escorted him to the border. There they gave him funds for his passage and expenses to New York. He was informed by his comrades of the society that his escape had been arranged by the payment of $2,000 to officials at the prison. Dr. Leion remained in New York three years. Seven years ago he came to this city, where he has since resided.

Dr. Leion's story was a vivid and interesting one, and it was a pleasure to hear of his experiences. He is a man of great energy and determination, and his story is a testament to his courage and faith.

Weak Lungs Often Lead to Serious Illness

If you have weak lungs and your system is run down you are more susceptible to serious lung trouble. By the use of Eckman's Alternative you have been restored to health. Read of this case.

"I am 32 years old, and have been a very severe cold, which settled on my chest. I began to cough and spit up blood. My physician then told me I must go to California immediately. At this time I was advised to take Eckman's Alternative. I stayed at home and commenced taking it the last week of October. I began to improve. In the first week of January, I resumed my regular occupation, having gained considerable strength and restored to health. It is now seven years since my recovery has been effected, and I cannot praise Eckman's Alternative too highly."

(Abbreviated.) (Signed) W. M. TATEM.

Eckman's Alternative is most effective in bronchitis, catarrh and severe throat and lung affections and upbuilding the system. Contains no harmful or habit-forming drugs. Accept no substitutes. Small size, 15c; large size, 25c. Sold by leading druggists. Write Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for booklet of recoveries.—Adv.

"Protect Us!"
A Staggering Expose of Vice and Crime
IN SIX REELS AND FOUR EPISODES
A Thrilling Drama of New York Life of To-Day

Are you the kind of a mother whose ears are so stopped up by old-fashioned ideas of prudishness that you keep your little girls in ignorance of the vital things in life?

How do you expect them to avoid the snares and pitfalls set for them on every side if they know nothing about them? How do you expect them to resist temptation if they do not recognize temptation when they see it?

Go to the Bijou Theatre to-day and see that wonderful moving picture production, "Protect Us!" then return home thankful for the lesson you have learned and the dangers that you have been familiarized with.

READ WHAT DOROTHY DIX SAYS:
"I wish every young girl in the world might see this film. It would teach her the dangers that lie in wait, of the risks that she runs, in making the acquaintance of strange men, and it would show her the thousand ways in which the wolves of the cities go about tracking down their prey. I wish all parents might see this wonderful picture. It would teach them that fathers and mothers, by their lack of wisdom and sympathy with youth, often drive their daughters to destruction. There's no way to make the primrose path look so attractive as by making the straight and narrow one too hard, ugly and dull."
